

LEARNING PROGRESS REFLECTION - No. 3 of 4

CREATIVITY

- Since the last time you wrote about your research, what did you learn about your topic?
- What did you learn about yourself and your ability to work with others?
- What does your group want to do to make sure your trifold board background and imagery connects to your universal theme, generalizations, and topic on a deep and symbolic level?
- What artistic or supplemental piece (sculpture, film, performance, interactive element, tech component, painting, mural, etc...) are you planning on doing for your project? Please be sure to draw it in the blank spaces provided for you and write a justification for it.
- In your next steps, what do you need to do to make sure you successfully complete this component of the project? What are some things you need to do?
- How is your collaboration going so far? What is working well and not working well?

Some new things I have learned about my topic is not all foster kids leave with a successful future ahead. Also the removal of their home and moving from place to place can affect their mental health. I learned that working by myself for annotating articles and answering quick response questions is easier to do alone than with others. But when I have to combine information for example in the ISD it is easier to work with my partners. My group made our board background three different house to signify moving from place to place. In addition to the three houses the atmosphere changes for all three turning from a happy place to an uncomfortable depressed place. Our supplemental piece is going to be a suitcase to illustrate the foster kid moving. Particular things we need to work on is to make borders for our ISD information so we can start pasting our information on our board. Also we need to print out our ending question, qr codes for our website, and begin work on the artifact. Collaboration has been alright for our group because of the opportunity many teachers are giving us to allow us to work on our symposium project. What is working well is the convenience of supplies our teacher has offered us to work on our project. Our symposium project is almost complete.
